

Camp Good News 2006 was a blessing to every member who participated, especially for me. We worked with 130 kids who were completely clueless about God and His creation. The week spent at camp, studying the word of God through different activities like Bible stories, crafts, music and sports encouraged the majority of campers to accept Jesus in their hearts. The team worked together, with the prayers of those back in the USA the Camp Good News leaders were able to bring Christ in the lives of the poor children from Causeni. Our desire was not only to introduce God to the children and for the children to accept Jesus as their Saviour but also to bring Him in their homes and families, therefore, at the camp we encouraged them to tell others about Christ and not be ashamed of what they have found at the camp that week, God. Each child made several promises that they were willing to keep. One of those was to share Christ with their friends and families. As a gift reminder of their promise they each received a Camp Good News Certificate that they would keep and remember all they have learned at camp.

I personally want to thank everybody in USA who helped sponsoring each child come to this camp. May God reward you for the sacrifice you did. If all the children in the camp would be able to speak English they would all tell you "Thank You" in a loud voice and I know they already do in their hearts. I also thank God for Mama Sue, Nena and Dane who were the representatives of all those in USA. Without their hard work, encouragements and prayers everyday wouldn't have done so well. The children, the leaders and the team are all grateful to God for the awesome week He has given us. I hope and pray that God will bless us with health and financial support so that we can continue God's mission next summer.
