

Jesus said “You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you to go and bear fruit, fruit that will last” (John 15:16) ...and I believe that this camp was a very good tasted fruit. I am sure it will last because all the leaders shared the love of Jesus Christ and also their love to every child at the camp.

I think the most important thing is that children would hear the Good News that God gives us through Jesus, believe in Jesus and accept Him as a personal Savior and friend.

I was impressed that in a short period of time many children decided to change their lifestyle.

They wanted to become better, and I think that a big part of it is leader's work, and their dedication to giving their best to the children at camp. The team was very united and the children saw it. They look up at each of us more than we realize and they watch every little thing we do.

For example, when Olga said she wants to be a designer almost all of the girls from her cabin said they wanted to become designers and that is wonderful. This camp was a special one to me; I am glad I was obedient to God's call and that He chose me.
